Zakai Arnowitz: Spirits Educator

Zakai Arnowitz is a skilled Craft Cocktail Bartender, Spirits Educator, and native of the San Francisco Bay Area.

He honed his craft in several of San Francisco's cocktail bars, most notably at the Alembic in SF's famed Haight/Ashbury neighborhood.

At the Alembic, noted as one of the first modern cocktail bars in SF, Zakai enjoyed participating in many aspects of operations, from host to barback to bartender. He contributed several new drinks to the menu during his time there, and was always delighted whenever his creations were well received by guests.

For many years alongside this, Zakai worked as a Spirit Educator for St. George Spirits, the country's first modern craft distillery. In this capacity, he hosted many diverse guests, ranging from laypersons to industry professionals and even a massive group of 60+ Naval Airforce alumni. No matter the level of guest knowledge about spirits, Zakai is happy to find ways of sharing the facts and leaving them with a better understanding and a memorable experience.

In his free time, Zakai is a skilled home cook, and is still delighted by a good cocktail. You can find him any day of the week reading up on new cocktail techniques or spirit production methods, often with a glass of something delicious in hand. Most importantly, though, he loves to share that knowledge with others, so he is very excited to lend that knowledge and skill to you.
